

Deductions

A State employee's compensation is subject to all lawful deductions including but not limited to social security, Medicare, state and federal taxes, and pension contribution if applicable. In addition, there are voluntary deductions which may be elected upon enrollment in one or more voluntary benefit programs.

