

Workers' Compensation Injuries/Claims

Employees who are injured while performing assigned job tasks must immediately report their injury to their direct supervisor who shall then promptly notify their human resources office. Human resources staff will then assist the employee in filling out an employee incident report and other required workers' compensation forms. Human resource staff will file the Employers First Report of Injury form along with other required forms to State Employees Workers' Compensation.

